WALL STREET NEWS

Mexican Revolt Credited for Drop in Securities.

MISSOURI PACIFIC DECLINES

Market Buya American Shares-Liquidation Evident-Rumore Cause Fall in Railroads. Wheat Market Weak-Bonds in Demand-Paper Makes Record.

New York, April 18.-The "war news" from Mexico was commonly credited to-day in Wall street with being the cause of the rather violent drop, that occurred in security prices, and there is no doubt that the fall originated in speculative selling based upon the development re-

It was, however, absurd to suppose, and few people really did so, that the de-cided enlargement in the volume of stock exchange business and the day's general break in security values was to any great extent connected with this matter. There is little in the Mexican situation

The American Cotton Oil common shares fell so sharply as to bring much in question the likelihood that a semiannual distribution upon the common shares would be ordered by the directors of the company at the full regular rate. A drop was natural in the Inter-Met. A drop was natural in the Inter-Met. Issues after the publication of the terms of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company's bid to the city authorities for the construction of the new subway, and a more decirive cause for general weakness was found in the renewed decline in Missouri Pacific stock which was based upon rumors that banking interests that have lately concerned themselves with the reliabilitation of the Missouri Pacific property were about to withdraw from the undertaking. shares would be ordered by the directors

All these unfavorable influences played a part in the action of the market, but the broad truth is that the decline was due chiefly to tired liquidation of stocks by disgusted holders whose patience has become worn out by the prolonged speculative inaction on the stock exchange and in the financial districts as a whole. Fear is now generally expressed that the Supreme Court decisions in the anti-trust cases may not be announced until the end of next month, when the court adjourns for its summer recess, and there is a possibility that the expected verdict will not be rendered before the fall of the year.

There is little in the Mexican situation to lead to financial fears or even to speculative misgivings. If anything has been made plain regarding this subject in the last few days it is that intervention by our government in the affairs of Mexico will only take place in the last extremity and then only at the direct beheat of Congress,

A true guide to the interpretation properly to be placed upon the Mexican difficulty, so far as its logical effect upon prices for American stocks was conprised for American stocks was congressed was found to-day in the atrength and the relatively large buying of our stocks by London houses that occurred during the decline.

The fair probability is that our stock market would have weakened consideration in the two or the stocks processed in the consequence of news might have been in consequence of the consequence of the stocks of the consequence of the consequen during the decline.

The fair probability is that our stock market would have weakened considerably to-day no matter what the general news might have been in consequence of the pressure of liquidation in the two or three special quarters of the market.
